President Bishop Achieves Goal of Class I

President Hearl C. Bishop

The realization of our area Class I Junior College has been achieved through great cooperative effort by the people. This outstanding accomplishment has given us a juxtaposition with other areas in establishing an educational landmark in the history of our public schools in Illinois. The construction of our area Junior College will be remembered as the unprecedented achievement of our times, and our greatest contribution for the development and welfare of our young men and women.

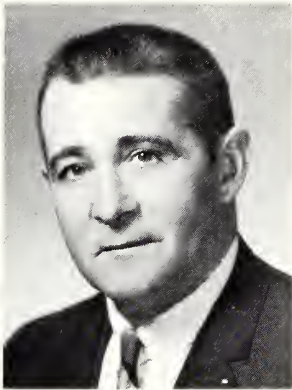

The real significance of our Class I Junior College will not be necessarily reflected in statistics, but rather, in the experiences of individual citizens, young and old, where lives are being molded and shaped by the new educational programs of the school. In addition, many community services may be rendered by the college staff and students participating cooperatively.

Today, better jobs are demanding better education, hence, your greatest and most rewarding efforts can be realized through planned educational programs. May your contributions be measured by your personal success for the betterment of our society.

C.C.C. Becomes Class I

On March 2, 1968, a referendum for Canton College to become the Fulton-Mason-Knox area junior college was approved by 77% of the voters. This approval made Canton College a Class I Junior College. Eight years ago the Canton district residents voted to establish the present Canton College. For the first 6 years it operated in facilities at the Canton High School. During the past 2 years it has been housed in several buildings in the downtown area. Efforts to get a Class I junior college have been underway since the fall of 1966. More than 40 clubs, organizations, news media, and political groups endorsed the Class I college, as did the Board of Higher Education and the Illinois Junior College Board. The efforts have not been in vain, for Canton College will become the Spoon River Junior College, a Class I junior college.

Dean Herald Bishop commented, "To me, there can be no better way to commemorate our Sesquicentennial in the great State of Illinois. It will stand as our greatest contribution to the youth and adult populace of West Central Illinois."

Nurses Study Here and There

The philosophy of the Graham Hospital School of Nursing is in harmony with the philosophy of the Graham Hospital within which the school of nursing functions. The school of nursing believes that learning is achieved in an atmosphere where democratic principles of learning are understood and used, and where the group desires to attain a common goal. The students' participation through perception and development of ideas is essential to the learning process, of which reasoned values, motivation, and a knowledge of the goals are necessary for achievement.

The Canton Community College provides the instruction in the basic sciences for the School of Nursing. Students attend classes at the college for four terms.

Student Senate

Steve Walden dishes up some barbecue for Mark Heuer at the annual Crusaders Day.

There are two elections each year: 1) five Freshman Representatives are elected during the last week of September, and 2) the four officers and two Sophomore Representatives are elected during the last week of April to serve the following year.

The Student Senate started this school year with a free dance featuring "The Shags" of Peoria. The "Doors" concert and the "Roger Williams" concert were next on the Senate calendar. Then something new at Canton College, "Casino Night," was a great success. Another success was the college Christmas Dance with Steve Walden and Melinda Inman reigning as king and queen for the event. Next, another new event in Canton was our own "Dating Game" with couples receiving an evening of fun at the Suburban Supper Club. The last and greatest social function was the May Ball held in the Pere Marquette Grand Ballroom.

One year . . .

Come and gone quickly,
too quickly—

We have learned facts, formulas, names, dates.
We have looked deeply into ourselves.

We have experienced
campus life, the lake, finals.
We have touched other people,
other worlds—some deeply.

We have created
an experiment, a painting,
a story.

We have established deep ties
of friendship.

We have grown
in knowledge,
in experience . . .

And this is the place
where we all came together.

This year has been a significant stage in the expansion of Canton Community College. Canton College began the year with a dream to be Class I. This dream was transformed into reality when the Class I proposal passed. The 1968 SHIELD presents a permanent record of this year of growth. For their continuous hard work we wish to thank Angie Blake, Student Life Editor, Vicki Crank, Academics Editor, Joe Halford, Sports Editor, Mary Weaver, Class Editor, Joyce Miller, Jeannie Kumer, Patty Crist, and Kathy Anderson. Our sincerest thanks go to Joe Gardner, our American Yearbook Consultant, Roger Foote, our photographer, and Mrs. Kathryn Doubet, our advisor, for their expert knowledge and advice.
